UnderCroft follow-up review

Build 21 compared with build 14 | 12 November 2026

Build 21 removes the document files flagged in the first review and replaces the debug signature. Three material issues still need attention before wider distribution.

1. Protect existing users during the upgrade

The new signature verifies. It uses a different certificate from build 14, and the app keeps the same Android identity. Android will reject a direct update from the old APK to this one. Test a migration that preserves local records before asking existing users to replace their installation. Android signing guidance

2. Finish removing estate-specific material

All 13 identity and legal document files flagged in build 14 are absent from build 21. Readable household and estate-specific notes remain inside the app package. Confirm that any retained examples are approved for distribution or replace them with fictional examples.

3. Correct the probate instructions

The packaged Scottish instructions still point to IHT421. When the full inheritance-tax return is needed, HMRC returns a stamped C1 to the representative or agent, who lodges it with the court. The wording on who can sign and when written professional valuations are necessary also needs qualification. Scottish tax procedure · IHT400 guidance · Valuation guidance

Build 21 removes the blanket dismissal of will copies, corrects the Scottish Form 14 and Apple Access Key labels, and tells drivers to check with their insurer.

Phone check

The installed build on the Samsung phone matched the supplied APK exactly. The phone disconnected before the empty sign-in and sign-up forms could be submitted. Build 21 contains clearer error messages. Both empty forms still need a live check before counting the fix as complete.

The revised demonstration

The same public demo now has 35 slides, up from 27. It adds an executor walkthrough, topic selection, a slide counter and image enlargement.

Make enlargement and navigation keyboard accessible

In the live browser, the topic menu and Next worked. Next retained keyboard focus. Clicking an image opened the enlargement, Escape closed it, and replay returned to slide 1. The Play and Pause controls switched as expected. Spoken narration still needs a listening check.

Tab from the final slide selector returned to Previous. The image had no keyboard entry point, and opening the enlargement left focus outside the dialog. Add a labelled enlargement button, move focus into the dialog and let Tab continue past the final selector.

Bring the tour into line with the app guidance

Slide 11 still presents Form 14 as the death certificate and directs users to obtain five certified copies. The revised APK text distinguishes the documents. Update the pictured guidance to explain what each certificate is for and how many copies the organisations involved require. National Records of Scotland

Slide 16 now advises contacting providers, while still assuming banks will stop recurring payments automatically. Tell executors to confirm payment arrangements with the bank and cancel the service with the provider. FCA guidance on recurring payments

Explain what Readiness checks

The new screen checks invitations and access. Call it Access readiness and make that scope clear in the narration. The executor walkthrough shows the intended experience. Checking actual executor permissions requires separate test accounts.
